

Transcript for All Saints Primary School

Child 1: Hey. Oh, I can hear myself.

Child 2: Go, kids, go. Rule the playgrounds. Playgrounds are important, even if they're not educational. But everyone loves them.

Child 3: If adults listen to kids, we'll be more responsible.

Child 4: Dear adults, I'd love more places to play and touch. And, and adults, I want more places where I can explore my senses. I want to experience things with my friends that make core memories. I want to be happy with others, but I can only do that with my surroundings. Don't ruin our play places.

Child 5: Dear adults, I would like more opportunities to do my things, like using my phone and letting me stay up longer.

Child 6: Dear adults, you need to find out what kids like, to make more of it and you need to stop throwing away plastic waste in the ocean, to stop pollution, and so animals don't die.

Child 7: Dear adults, give us more independence. A lot of us should be able to do things and think for ourselves. Independence is important because we can become more self-aware.

[clapping and knocking sound]

Child 8: Dear adults, apple juice is superior and has been superior for years because orange juice is like, sometimes it tastes bitter, but apple juice tastes like apple juice. It tastes the same. It's not like always bitter.

Child 9: Dear adults, I'd like to sea and go to the park. Please keep it clean. Also, I can play with my friend.

Child 10: Dear adults, let us be ourself and explore life, be happy and kind.

Child 11: Dear adults, I would like you not to judge our decisions neither our opinions. This can really help us.

Child 12: Dear adults, having a pet hamster is important because it makes you understand what rodents really are.

Child 13: Dear adults, please add aquariums so we can see more sea life. Sharks are important to me, and we don't want them to die from rubbish.

Child 14: If adults listen to kids, we might be able to stop climate change.

Child 15: Dear adults, I like playing football because it's fun. I think that you adults should make playing fields bigger and better because there are more people playing football and we really need the space.

Child 16: Dear adults, I think adults should let younger girls have rights and give us a better chance. I have a voice, and I'll use it until every woman and girl have the same opportunities as me.

Child 17: Dear adult, I am responsible for my money, don't take it please. I am becoming more mature and I now what to do with my money.

Child 18: Dear adults, I think you should involve children in more sports and let us try more sports so that we can really explore and find a sport we truly love.

Child 19: Dear adults, can you make sure you're by our side when we're trying to conquer our dreams? We are responsible for our money mess, and voice, and sponsors. Also, be aware of our surroundings.

Child 20: Dear adults, you should listen to your children, and you should stop putting plastic in the sea, and you should ask how your children is feeling and what is your children's favourite food is.

Child 21: Dear teachers, can you make dinners free for all students because some people can't afford hot foods or packed lunches? Thank you.

Child 22: Dear adults, clean the sea and recycle so the world and the sea can be better.

Child 23: Hello [tapping][whispers] ASMR, I've seen these on TikTok shop.

Child 24: Dear adults, I think that adults should have more fun with their families.

Child 25: Dear adults, I would love you to take care of the environment because it can cause pollution.

Child 26: I want you to think about us, example, what we want, spend more time with us, and pay more attention to us.

Child 27: Dear adults, I have a dog, and it's important to have one because it's good companionship. Dogs are super cute and friendly, and they can protect you if you are in danger. Some are super cute and fluffy, and some are bold and beautiful.

[tapping and laughing]

Child 28: Dear adults, I think you should be nice to children and let them actually decide what they want, because what the kids want could be useful and important.

Child 29: Dear adults, friendship is important because we can tell our things to our friends. We can share our things with the friends.

Child 30: Dear adults, I think that children should be let to make decisions without you adults interfering. The most you can do to help is support them and help them express their idea in a way that they will know they've got a chance to be heard and shine through their voice.

Child 31: Dear grown-ups, I think adults should think about us more, such as spending more time with us, paying more attention to what we do, buy us what we want sometimes if it's about choice. It will make us feel more special.

Child 32: Adults should listen to children because we might be able to recycle more or possibly improve climate change. We should also get more money for general stuff like food or a can of Fanta every once in a while. We are growing, and I think we can be more responsible with our money.

Child 33: If adults think of us more, children would have more independence. Independence makes us more comfortable in front of other people.

Child 34: Let me have money, so I'm going to take out the plastic of the ocean.

Child 35: Dear adults, I suggest that you treat us like kings and queens, because we are the next generation.

Child 36: Dear adults, I would like you to think about us and let us keep our money from our relatives. And listen to us when we are sad, and I will love to go to a fun and happy place, and to be keeping my gadgets to myself because I'm becoming more capable with it, and don't put parental control.

Child 37: I would love it if all of you would let me use my phone until eleven o'clock or more because I am becoming more mature, please.

Child 38: Dear adults, I'd like of a place to learn more about art was created for children, to have fun trying different forms of art.

Child 39: Dear adults, you all should be trying to make a difference with the environment, as most of the time trying to make it ideal. And in a couple of years, we won't have much wildlife as it is being neglected. I mean, it makes me feel like our futures that we have as young, as we're young now, it's gonna ruin our futures and we won't have many opportunities anymore with other things. So it'll be sad.

Child 40: Dear adults, you should use your power in everyday life to help us children grow up into decent human beings. Let us help our generation by growing and shaping our world into a better place. We want a welcoming community.

Child 41: Dear adults, adults should let us follow our dreams and show us kids the way to our dreams. We should fix the past mistakes of our countries, like wildfires, wars, and bombs. You should donate money to charity.

Child 42: Dear adults, if your kid wants cheese, ask what type. All types have their own taste, and the future is in your hands. Is it good?

Adult: Yes. How do you feel about that?

Child 42: I feel all confident.

Adult: Yeah? You feel- you sound confident.

Child 42: Thank you.

Adult: You're gonna do one final one now that you're in a confident mood?

Child 42: Sure. Dear adults, if your kid wants cheese, ask what type. All types have their own taste, and the future is in your hands.
